MAHONE is mad all over. He attributes the success of the Democrats in Virginia yesterday to "the unscrupulous use of the election machinery over which they have absolute control and which was provided by the last usurping Legislature with this | And Virginia Again Free from Readend in view." Well, if this was so and Billy knew it to be so, why did he run a

THERE were three Democratic Governor elected yesterday, Lowry in Mississippi, Lee in Virginia, and Hill in New York. Larrabee of Iowa, and Robinson of Massachusetts, Republicans, were elected Governors of those States. New York, Mississippi, Virginia and New Jersey elected Democratic Legislatures, and Connecticut, The Democratic State and Legislative Iowa and Massachusetts, Republican,

THERE was not as much interest taken in the election in Mississippi yesterday as there ought to have been. The Republicans had no nominees. State or county, and the Independents made their appearance in only five counties. This accounts for the general apathy, the full measure of which was made apparent at Jackson, the State capitol, where, out of 1000 voters registered only 300 voted. The negroes were conspicuous by their absence from the polls. Those of them that voted did so for the Democratic tickets, which were everywhere elected by large majorities.

HILL, who was elected Governor of New York yesterday, became Governor in March last when Cleveland became Presilent by virtue of his heing Lieutenant-Governor. He has been in public life for many years, and served as mayor of Elmira, where he was editor of the Gazette, and in both branches of the Legislature. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor on the ticket with Cleveland when he was elected Governor by the unprecedented majority of nearly 200,000. Mr. Hill's election is a signal triumph over slander and abuse and in face of a very earnest and special opposition by the mugwumps who voted for Cleveland for President.

GEN. FITZHUGH LEE, elected Governor of Virginia yesterday, is a son of the late Commodore Lee, of the navy, and a nephew of Gen. Robert E. Lee. He was educated at West Point and served in the Federal army, from which he resigned to enter the Confederate army, where he rose rapidly to the rank of major-general and commanded a division of cavalry. He was a pallant soldier, and in civil life is known for a plain Democratic farmer. This is his first venture in politics. His canvass was a very earnest one, and was admirably managed. Gen. Lee will make a good Governor, and may perhaps be elected to Mahone's place in the Senate.

feeling that the contest for Governorship would be close, caused the returns from the city to be esgerly looked for. It was generally admitted that if Hill could leave this city with 4500 majority over Davenport his election was assured. He secured that majority, and the 11,000 majority from Kings county added to the hopes of his party. His majority in New York and Kings county would indicate his election unless the interior dicate his election unless the interior should give some unusual surprises not to be predicted by previous experiences in the average State elections. the Republicans might not elect their Governor they might elect their Lieutenant Governor with the same candidate who had been elected Secretary of State, when there was otherwise a Democratic State victory. Intense local interest was manifested in the contest for sheriff. The returns began early to show that the issue would be between Hugh I Grant the Tammany candidate. Hugh J. Grant, the Tammany candidate, and John W. Jacobus, Republican. An-drew J. White, the County Democracy candidate, was in the rear. As is usual on election night, the headquarters of every political organization in the city was crowded with people who were anxious to learn the latest news from the va-rions election districts. The County De-mocracy gathered in Chickering Hall, the Tammany braves at the Big Wigwam, the Irving Hall Democrats at Irving Hall and the Republicans at the Grand Opera-House. In each of these places the returns were read as fast as they were received. The largest crowds assembled at Tammany Hall and the Grand Opera-House. When the dispatch announcing that Gov. Hill had carried New York City by such a majority as to make his election almost certain was read at Tammany Hall the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The shouting and hurrahing could be heard for several blocks distant. The Republi cans early conceded the fact that the city had gone Democratic, but maintained to a late hour that the State had gone for THE "TRIBUNE" ON THE RESULT.

In an editorial headed "The President in an entorial needed The Frestoria holds his own State, the Tribune says: The Democrats retain New York. Gov. Hill has been elected by a figure so handsome as to make the beggarly plurality which the State gave President Cleveland almost invisible. The return of voters whom Mr. Blame's candidacy alienated whom Mr. Blame's candidacy alienated did not make good to the Republican party the loss this year of voters whom that candidacy attracted. In fact, the gain does not seem to have equaled one-third or one-fourth of the loss. The stay-at-home voters decided the matter. The vote was light, but the Republicans who did not take the trouble to vote outnumbered the Democrats.

The chief State issue involved is the repeal of Linn county. The chief State issue involved is the repeal or further trial of prohibition. The fusion platform demands the repeal of the prohibition and the substitution of a general license law. The Republican platform asks for a fair trial of the prohibitory law before any modification in it was made. The Senators ejected this year will yote for a United States Senator two years from next winter. National issues are also involved in the campaign. The vote of 1883, when the Republican majority for to-day will be compared with the combined vote of Democrats and Greenbackers are in 1883. There are 1700 voting precincts in the county.

and represented that she was a daughter of Judge Curtis of New York, and that she was in search of a sister, fifteen years of age, who ran away from home three weeks ago and had been traced to Pittsburg. She also said she had a brother living in Harrisburg, who would be in the city in a few days. The hotel people were satisfied with her story, but as she positively refused to search they finally notified the police, and after an investigation the latter decided that she was a fraud. To-night Detective O'Mara went to the hotel for the purpose was in search of a sister, fifteen years of O'Mara went to the hotel for the purpose of arresting her, and suspecting his object, she made a pretense of wanting a drink of water, and stepping into another room she swallowed half an ounce of laudanum. TAPPAN, N. Y., November 3.—The Andre monument was blown up by the explosion of a dvnamite cartridge at 10:20 to-night. Both bases were blown into atoms and the iron ience that inclosed the monument completely demolished. The shock was so great that it broke the glass in houses a mile away. In a hotel half a mile distant it broke the globes in the lamps, and the West Shore depot was jarred and several panes of glass broken. Fifteen minutes after the explosion there were 200 persons at the spot. Some came running with revolvers in their hands.
